

Revenues and Benefits Bulletin

New Benefit calculator to help Sandwell residents

In partnership with 'Entitled To' we are launching a localised benefit calculator that's accessible for any Sandwell resident or organisation which supports them. Don't miss out

Use me today

Use it to check your entitlement to welfare benefits including Universal Credit or Sandwell's local Council Tax Reduction (a discount on your Council Tax bill).

Calculate

'Entitled to' for reliable help and advice.

Resident, Housing worker Social landlord Council officer Advice worker

Find out if you or your client are entitled to extra help through welfare benefits or Council Tax Reduction (CTR) with the localised version of the 'Entitled To' calculator, designed for Sandwell residents.

'Entitled to' are an independent body who offer advice on benefit rules and entitlement. They are a trusted government partner on Gov.uk. Please note that Entitled To shows information about CTR but not other Council Tax discounts or exemptions such as Single Occupier Discount or student exemptions. Other types of discounts and exemptions are available.

Don't delay

Use the calculator today. Different benefits and Council Tax discounts or exemptions have different rules on backdating. Backdating can sometimes be awarded in certain circumstances. However, not all backdating requests are allowed. To avoid loss, apply for help as soon as possible.

Someone moving home?

In or out, whether you are a landlord or resident; tell us about a change of occupancy.