

Coping with Bereavement

As we get older, coping with the loss of a loved one can become very difficult. There is no single "right" or "wrong" way to process loss. Individuals may show a wide range of feelings, including:

- Disbelief or denial, continuing on as if nothing has changed.
- Feelings like anger, panic, shock or emotional numbness.
- Difficulty sleeping, tiredness, loss of appetite, quick change of mood, trouble concentrating, anxiety, or depression.
- Vivid imaginations of seeing or hearing the deceased.
- Feelings of guilt due to perceived failures or inability to prevent the death.

Recognising and allowing these different reactions is an important part of the healing process.

Things That Can Help

- Talk about your feelings and your loss - it's ok not to feel ok.
- Reach out for support and communicate your needs to others who can help.
- Try to maintain your normal routine as much as possible.
- Take care of yourself - sleep and rest, spend time with family/ friends/ neighbours/ local community groups.
- Be patient - it takes time for things to feel different, bereavement can be like a rollercoaster.
- Be careful, as accidents are more likely during periods of stress.

If you are having a medical emergency or you are in a life-threatening situation, please call 999 or attend your local A&E department

"At the beginning all you can feel is the overwhelming sadness. As time passes, even though the sadness remains, it is alongside happy memories and memorable times spent together."
