High Court extends street racing injunction to 2027

Released: Monday 2 March, 2026

The High Court has agreed that an injunction banning street racing across parts of the Black Country should continue.

The decision follows a review hearing in Birmingham on Thursday (26 February, 2026) where the City of Wolverhampton Council, Sandwell Council and Walsall Council applied for the injunction – along with the associated power of arrest – to remain in place across all three boroughs until at least 1 March 2027.

The injunction prohibits people from taking part in street racing as a driver, rider or passenger; from promoting, organising or publicising gatherings; or from attending as a spectator.

The injunction covers the whole of the boroughs of Wolverhampton, Sandwell and Walsall and anyone found to be breaching it will be in contempt of court and may be imprisoned, fined or have their assets seized. They may also be ordered to pay the council's legal costs of any hearing.

At Thursday's review hearing, Her Honour Judge Kelly agreed that the injunction should continue, with minor amendments to the wording, after considering evidence from the three Claimant councils demonstrating its positive impact.

In written evidence Pardip Nagra, Wolverhampton Anti-Social Behaviour Team Leader, said the information provided "clearly illustrates that street racing is still a very real issue within the Black Country and that the full injunction order should remain in place to provide reassurance to the public and to save lives."

PC Mark Campbell from Operation Hercules, West Midlands Police's tactical response to street racing, provided data showing "a massive decrease in the number of vehicles taking part in street racing" between April and November 2025.

He added: "I cannot overstate the benefit of the current injunction and the importance of renewing this injunction.

"The Black Country local authorities are seeing a huge drop in organised meets, however it is only a matter of time before we see the return of the car cruises, and the renewal of the injunction will allow officers from West Midlands Police to carry on the good work conducted over the last 12 months."

In her order, HHJ Kelly said: "The compelling justification for the injunction and power of arrest remains. The updated evidence establishes that the amended injunction and power of arrest are having a deterrent effect but that street cruising activity continues to be a problem... as evidenced by the successful contempt applications over the past year, the need for diversionary courses, reports from local residents, and police monitoring activity.

"To the extent that overall street cruising activity has reduced from that seen prior to injunctive relief being in place, it is well established that evidence of that kind is not evidence that the risk has abated."

Speaking on behalf of the three councils, Councillor Obaida Ahmed, the City of Wolverhampton Council's Cabinet Member for Health, Wellbeing and Community, said: "Street racing has blighted local communities for far too long. Over more than a decade, the High Court injunction has proved to be a vital deterrent, helping reduce this dangerous and anti-social behaviour and keep people safe.

"We welcome the court's decision to allow the injunction to continue across Wolverhampton, Sandwell and Walsall. The evidence shows it is working, and we will not hesitate to seek a further extension if it is needed to protect residents and save lives."

The revised injunction will come into effect once the Claimant Councils have completed certain steps related to its service. In the meantime, the existing injunction remains in force.

For more information about the street racing injunction, including evidence, the terms of the injunction and the power of arrest, please visit the street racing pages of the applicants – Wolverhampton (www.wolverhampton.gov.uk/street-racing-injunction), Walsall, (https://go.walsall.gov.uk/black_country_car_cruising_injunction), or Sandwell (www.sandwell.gov.uk/streetracing) – which are in the process of being updated following the hearing.

At the same hearing, an application to discontinue the injunction in Dudley was also permitted. Dudley Council says it intends to use alternative powers at its disposal to tackle street racing locally. This will not impact on the enforceability of the injunction in Sandwell, Walsall or Wolverhampton.

Incidents of street racing should be reported via asbu@wolverhamptonhomes.org.uk or to West Midlands Police on 101. In an emergency, always dial 999.

Police are also inviting members of the public to submit dash cam or mobile phone footage of street racing events or dangerous driving via its Op Snap website, <https://www.westmidlands.police.uk/police-forces/west-midlands-police/areas/campaigns/campaigns/operation-snap/>.

An injunction banning street racing across three areas of the Black Country has been extended.

The order prevents people from participating in street racing as a driver, rider or passenger, as well as from promoting or organising gatherings, and participating as a spectator.

Following a review hearing on Thursday, the High Court agreed the injunction, along with the associated power of arrest, is to remain in place across Wolverhampton, Sandwell and Walsall until at least 1 March 2027.

Dudley Council's application to be removed from the ban has been approved.

The council has said it preferred to use Public Space Protection Orders (PSPO) to tackle dangerous driving.

A temporary ban on racing was first introduced in December 2022, following the deaths of teenagers Liberty Charris, 16, and Ben Corfield, 19, in Oldbury, who died when a car crashed into them.

High Court injunction bans street racing in Wolverhampton, Sandwell and Walsall

HOME / PARKING AND ROADS / HIGH COURT
INJUNCTION BANS STREET RACING IN WOLVERHAMPTON,
SANDWELL AND WALSALL

The High Court has granted an injunction banning 'street racing', also known as 'car cruising', in the Black Country in Wolverhampton, Sandwell and Walsall.

It forbids anyone who is a driver, rider or passenger in or on a motor vehicle to participate between the hours of 3pm and 7am in a gathering of two or more persons within the three council areas at which some of those present engage in motor racing or motor stunts or other dangerous or obstructive driving.

It also covers organisers and spectators, prohibiting people from promoting, organising or publicising gatherings, or from participating in a gathering as a spectator with the intention or expectation that some of those present will engage in street racing.

The Injunction covers the whole of the boroughs of Wolverhampton, Sandwell and Walsall and has a Power of Arrest attached which gives the police the power to arrest anyone who breaches it. Breach of an Injunction is a contempt of court and, if proved, the court has the power to impose a sentence of imprisonment, a fine, or an order seizing a person's assets.

For the purposes of the injunction, stunts are defined as driving manoeuvres often undertaken at such gatherings including but not limited to:

- "Burnouts" – causing a vehicle to damage or destroy its tyres by applying power to the drive wheels while braking so as to remain in place while the wheels revolve at speed
- "Donuts/Donutting" – causing a vehicle to rotate around a fixed point (normally the front axle) while not moving-off causing noise, smoke and tyre marks to be created
- "Drifting" – turning by placing the vehicle in a skid so that most sideways motion is due to the skid not any significant steering input
- "Undertaking" – Passing a vehicle on its nearside so as to overtake in circumstances not permitted by the Highway Code.

The Injunction and power of arrest will remain in force until at least 1 March 2027.

Full details of the injunction, including evidence presented to the High Court, the Sealed Order, power of arrest, a map showing the three local authority areas and other supporting documentation, can be found in the downloads section of this page.

Incidents of street racing should be reported via gsbu@wolverhamptonhomes.org.uk or to West Midlands Police on 101. In an emergency, always dial 999.

Police are also inviting members of the public to submit dash cam or mobile phone footage of street racing events or dangerous driving via its Op Snap website, <https://www.westmidlands.police.uk/police-forces/west-midlands-police/areas/campaigns/campaigns/operation-snap/>.

The application was led by the City of Wolverhampton Council on behalf of Sandwell Council and Walsall Council, and supported by West Midlands Police.

Black Country street racing injunction

Overview

The High Court has granted an injunction banning 'street racing', also known as 'car cruising', in the Black Country in Wolverhampton, Sandwell and Walsall.

The injunction and power of arrest will remain in force until at least 1 March 2027.

Full details of the injunction, including evidence presented to the High Court, the Sealed Order, power of arrest, a map showing the three local authority areas and other supporting documentation, can be found in the supporting information section of this page.

The application was led by the City of Wolverhampton Council on behalf of Sandwell Council and Walsall Council, and supported by West Midlands Police.

What the injunction means

It forbids anyone who is a driver, rider or passenger in or on a motor vehicle to participate between the hours of 3pm and 7am in a gathering of two or more persons within the three council areas at which some of those present engage in motor racing or motor stunts or other dangerous or obstructive driving.

It also covers organisers and spectators, prohibiting people from promoting, organising or publicising gatherings, or from participating in a gathering as a spectator with the intention or expectation that some of those present will engage in street racing.

The injunction covers the whole of the boroughs of Wolverhampton, Sandwell and Walsall and has a Power of Arrest attached which gives the police the power to arrest anyone who breaches it. Breach of an injunction is a contempt of court and, if proved, the court has the power to impose a sentence of imprisonment, a fine, or an order seizing a person's assets.

For the purposes of the injunction, stunts are defined as driving manoeuvres often undertaken at such gatherings including but not limited to:

- "burnouts" - causing a vehicle to destroy its tyres by applying power to the drive wheels while braking so as to remain in place while the wheels revolve at speed
- "donuts/donutting" - causing a vehicle to rotate around a fixed point (normally the front axle) while not moving-off causing noise, smoke and tyre marks to be created
- "drifting" - turning by placing the vehicle in a skid so that most sideways motion is due to the skid not any significant steering input
- "undertaking" - passing a vehicle on its nearside so as to overtake in circumstances not permitted by the Highway Code

At the hearing of 26 February 2026, an application to discontinue the injunction in Dudley was permitted. Dudley Council intends to use alternative powers at its disposal to tackle street racing locally. This will not impact on the enforceability of the injunction in Sandwell, Walsall or Wolverhampton.

Hello Adam, all the electronic signs were updated on the 17/03/26 and the metal and foamex signs have had the Dudley logo covered up/removed on the 18/03/26.

The new injunction order, power of arrest and case management order from the 26/02/26 hearing were placed on reception on the 04/03/26.

The website was updated on the 02/03/26. I understand that the Press Office has been in contact with Paul Brown regarding the social media post and they have been completed.

Hope you are well?

As per the High Court order granted last week, I am writing to ask you to please share the below links on the social media channels of Wolverhampton, Walsall and Sandwell Police and, if possible, West Midlands Police, to posts promoting the extended street racing injunction. (Note, this no longer covers Dudley so there is no need to share any information on the Dudley Police channels):

Please could you also consider the possibility of putting a version of our news story (<https://www.wolverhampton.gov.uk/news/high-court-extends-street-racing-injunction-2027>) on your website, again as per the High Court request.

Please could you let me know if you are able to do some or all of the above, and send me screenshots of any posts so I can include them as evidence in my statement to the High Court detailing completion of the various steps we need to take (which includes this one – see below for the requirement).

Many thanks in advance!
