

Josh, You're Hired!

Sandwell Shared Lives team would like to give a huge congratulations to Josh who has bagged his first job!

Josh completed a work experience placement alongside attending his College - Queen Alexandra College. Josh was supported to attend employment events, where he practised interviews and discussed his goals. Josh set himself the goal of gaining a full-time paid role in the construction industry.

Throughout his work experience placement, Josh demonstrated determination, showed his hard work ethic and secured himself a role! Josh is really happy and proud of himself for securing the role. His Shared Lives Carer told the team 'it is a big boost to Josh's confidence as now he knows he is employable.'

Josh continues to be supported by his Long-Term Shared Lives Carers to learn skills around tax, annual leave and all the other fun parts to having your first job!

Congratulations!

from The Sandwell Shared Lives team.
